There Are Millions In It

Yes, and Monk's the boy who can find 'em, too. But, as Kipling says, that's another story. What we want to drum into your thinking is the fact that we can save you good dollars on what lumber you're going to need this season.

No matter what you want, nor how much of it, nor how little, if you're particular about the quality and the price, here's the place to buy it.

HOLDEN LUMBER CO.

The years have linings just as goblets do; The old year is the lining of the new. Filled with the wine of precious memories, The golden was doth line the silver in.

Write it 1903.

Melvin Robinson, entertainer, this (Friday) evening.

While in Port Huron Monday, we dropped into the new quarters of the Daily Herald, at 529 Water street. Having just moved in, all was in confusion, but one could see that when everything was placed and settled the plant would have fine, commodious quarters, also in a splendid location.

Mrs. Henry Johnson is the lucky person who made the nearest guess to the time that L. Roy Fuller's clock would run before stopping. Her guess was 9 days, 10 hours and 12 minutes, just 6 minutes more than the time it ran. Mrs. Johnson received a beautiful mantle clock, given by Mr. Fuller for the nearest guess.

A party was given at the residence of Mrs. Grant Holden Wednesday evening in honor of Maxie Holden of Brown City, who is spending the holidays among relatives here. About twenty five were present who were entertained with lunch, crokinole and other games. Home made confectionery and nuts were served during the evening.

The Single Dozen Club met at the home of Edith Holden last Friday evening. Each member had the privilege of inviting a gentleman and a merry social party they made. The time was spent in playing Finch. When lunch time came the young ladies produced boxes which each had brought filled with dainties and with hot coffee served by the hostess they were not long in disposing of the good things.

The peculiar cough which indicates croup, is usually well known to the mothers of croupy children. No time should be lost in the treatment of it, and for this purpose no medicine has received more universal approval than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Do not waste valuable time in experimenting with untried remedies, no matter how highly they may be recommended, but give this medicine as directed and all symptoms of croup will quickly disappear. For sale by Grant Holden.

New Year resolutions! Is there one of us who does not resolve to do a little differently through the coming year? Is there one who does not think but what he might make his life a little better? Why do we make good resolutions the first of the year? Is it different from any other day? At the end of the old year we in our business want to have our affairs all straightened out, all accounts balanced, everything ready to turn over a new leaf, having it white and clean to begin the new year's business. So with our lives, we would like to see all feuds wiped away, we would like to live better and purer lives, to turn down the blotted pages of our past and find a spotless page to begin on again. Hence our good resolutions. Do we live up to them? Not all, perhaps, and perhaps some, not any but who will say but what the squaring up of accounts, the time we have taken to think about these things, has not done us all good and will have some tendency to begin the new year's business. We should strive with all our power to make our lives worth living and the new year will bring us better things if we only deserve them.

Nellie Newell has perhaps made the best record of any Sunday school scholar in Yale, having missed only three Sundays in five years. She received from her teacher, Mrs. Gird, for Christmas, a Robert Baker's diploma. The six seals on diploma representing Faithfulness, Courage, Loyalty, Enthusiasm, Consecration, and Influence. Nellie richly deserves the honor bestowed upon her.

Mrs. Johanna Soderholm, of Fergus Falls, Minn., fell and dislocated her shoulder. She had a surgeon get it back in place as soon as possible, but it was quite sore and pained her very much. Her son mentioned that he had seen Chamberlain's Pain Balm advertised for sprains and soreness, and she asked him to buy her a bottle of it, which he did. It quickly relieved her and enabled her to sleep which she had not done for several days. The son was so much pleased with the relief it gave his mother that he has since recommended it to many others. For sale by Grant Holden.
